British Launch Desert Offensive

R.A.F. Blasts Rommel's Embarkation Port in Italy

Genoa, Two Other Cities Are Raided

By SIDNEY J. WILLIAMS
LONDON, Oct. 24.—(AP)—A powerful force of R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. bombers, crossing the Alps under difficult weather conditions last night, attacked industrial objectives in northern Italy for the second consecutive night, it was announced today.

The big bombers, including Canadian squadrons, made a round trip of 1,500 miles over heavily clouded skies to strike at Genoa, Turin and Savona, all in industrial northern Italy.

It was the second raid in as many nights for Genoa and Turin and the second time Canadian bombers were over enemy territories in 24 hours. Three British bombers failed to return from last night's attack but all the Canadian planes got back to their bases. No planes were lost in Thursday's attacks on northern Italy.

BIGGEST BOMBERS
An R.C.A.F. communique said that Canadian squadrons from the bomber command had attacked objectives in the threshold in daylight yesterday without losing any planes.

The announcement disclosed that Britain's heaviest bombers—Wellingtons, Stirlings, Halifaxes and Lancasters—participated in the two night's raiding. One Lancaster was lost on the way back to Britain on three engines.

Genoa, the chief objective for the two night's raids, is the chief embarkation point for Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Korps reinforcements and is an important centre of the Italian aircraft industry.

An air officer who witnessed the R.A.F.'s devastating attacks on Genoa and the Renault works at Paris, said the Genoa attack was "the most concentrated and powerful" he had ever seen.

It was the first time in more than two years that northern Italy had been bombed.

Ace Missing

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, greatest American flying ace of the First Great War, is missing somewhere in the Pacific. It was announced in Washington last night.

Rickenbacker was reported overdue on an inspection trip of U.S. air establishments in the South Pacific area.

Rickenbacker Is Missing on Pacific Hop

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Eddie Rickenbacker, the United States' flying ace of the last war, is missing on a Pacific hop.

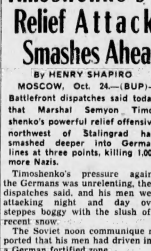

He is more than two days overdue on a flight out of Oahu to the Hawaiian Islands, the war department announced last night.

Apparently lost in the watery wastes where Amelia Earhart disappeared in 1937 on her flight around the world.

His plane, in which he was making an official inspection of the army air forces in the Pacific theatre, is similar to the plane he recently made on a Pacific hop.

Timoshenko's Relief Attack Smashes Ahead

The Russian drive against the Germans was unrelenting, the dispatches said, and his men were attacking night and day over deep-sea boggy with the slush of a recent snow.

The Soviet news communique reported that his men had driven into a German fortified zone.

HURL BACK ATTACKS
The defenders of Leningrad itself hurled back desperate new attacks against a vital factory in the northwestern part of the city and German losses up to at least 1,400 men and 15 tanks in 24 hours. Guardsmen, in a raid, killed 200 more Germans and burned or disabled five tanks.

Timoshenko's drive steadily gained momentum, and it seemed that he soon might realize his plan of slicing through the German left flank and trapping the Nazis at Leningrad between his army and the defenders, fighting with their backs to the Volga within the city.

(Reports reaching London said that Timoshenko's onslaught against the German flank was stronger than ever and was near the German main defensive positions northwest of Leningrad.)

SETBACK IN SOUTH
The Russian, however, suffered another setback southeast of Novorossiysk, former Soviet Black Sea base from which the Germans were trying to drive down the coast. The news communique acknowledged that numerically superior enemy forces had driven across a water barrier but said Soviet troops had counter-attacked and inflicted heavy losses.

On the other Caucasian front—the Mordok area to the east, where the Russians had vainly tried to drive to the Mordok oil fields—cold weather and flooded streams appeared to have forced a halt.

Another Hot Spot in Africa

With Germany again fearful of an attack upon Vichy-French Dakar, unconfirmed reports of the arrival of American troops in Liberia, 600 miles away, along the bulge of Africa, have added to Axis jitter. Pictured are, above, air view of Monrovia, capital of Liberia, only Negro republic in the world. Below, view of Water Street, on the Monrovia waterfront. Edmonton's and rural Northern Alberta's Third Victory Loan campaign is progressing slowly but steadily with prospects of the quotas being reached well within the three weeks "fairly bright, but still far off," officials of the drive announced Saturday.

This city reached 59.9 per cent of its $5,464,000 objective at the end of the fifth day, when Friday's returns amounted to $125,600 to boost the five-day total to $3,271,150.

In the rural units of Alberta, the total at the end of five days stands at $174,700, accumulated as the result of 2,118 sales. On Friday the sales amounted to $38,150.

They were: Monarch Life Insurance Co., Winnipeg, $100,000; Northern Life Insurance Co., London, $750,000; Montreal Life Insurance Co., Montreal, $600,000; National Life Insurance Co., Toronto, $500,000; Sovereign Life Insurance Co., Regina, $425,000; La Sauvegarde Vie Assurance Vie, Montreal, $300,000; and the Fidelity Life Insurance Co., Montreal, $250,000.

Interpreting War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
The latest Allied long-distance air attacks on Axis war-making centres from northern China to northern Italy lend peculiar significance to President Roosevelt's disclosure that American plane production has been reorganized to sacrifice numbers for greater range and hitting power.

That announcement, which also applies to the American tank output, can only intensify Japanese and Italian uneasiness over the trends of war-in-the-air.

It is not only German war production that is being reorganized to sacrifice numbers for greater range and hitting power.

Ottawa Refutes Version in U.S. Of Nazi Riots

OTTAWA, Oct. 24.—(CP)—The defence department, referring to representations made by Canada to the United States regarding publication by Time magazine of a report on disturbances at the Bowmanville, Ont., prisoner of war camp, last night issued a governing statement aimed at correcting the misleading and damaging inaccuracies of this report.

The (Time) report contains a number of falsehoods, the statement said.

The representations to the United States government were made necessary by the "distortions and inaccuracies" in the Time report, which will not only provide the enemy with material for propaganda, but may also be used by the German authorities as an excuse for further ill-treatment of Canadian and British prisoners of war in their hands.

The defence department statement issued last night said the "style and choice of expressions" in the Time report were "deliberately misleading."

10 Jap Ships Are Smashed In Solomons

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Oct. 24.—(CP)—Allied heavy bombers continuing their support of the United States forces in the Solomons sank or badly damaged a Japanese cruiser, one destroyer and eight transport ships or cargo ships in a raid in force on Rabaul, New Britain, Allied headquarters announced today.

The total tonnage raised by the big bombers with "dive-bombing" was approximately 50,000 tons, a communiqué said.

The cruiser, destroyer and two large merchantmen were believed sunk; one large merchantman was badly damaged and five other ships were hit.

The airmen attacked yesterday at low altitude just before dawn and returned safely despite heavy anti-aircraft fire.

"The raid was the second to be announced in as many days as concentrations of Jap ships which might be poised for an all-out assault on American-held Guadalcanal in the Solomons to the south. Yesterday's communiqué told of bombers dropping 10 tons of bombs on ships in the harbor at Buna, which is on the Solomon Island of Houaueville.

Today's communiqué told of a continued offensive by Allied ground forces in driving back the Japs toward Kolombangara, the advance base to which they launched their ill-fated drive toward Port Moresby in mid-summer. The communiqué stated "our ground forces are attacking a south of Aola."

It also reported a bombing attack by Jap planes on the airfield of Milne Bay, on the southeastern tip of New Guinea.

Nazi Radio Claims Viceroy of India Will Resign Post

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The Berlin radio last night broadcast a German radio news agency dispatch dated Calcutta, India, asserting that Lord Linlithgow, Viceroy of India, announced he would resign shortly. There was no confirmation of this report from any source. The Berlin radio said Lord Linlithgow himself made the announcement while speaking in Calcutta yesterday.

The Evening Standard's correspondent today disclosed that Fumerton, a night-fighter ace, has shot down seven enemy planes since he went to Malta not so long ago.

Twice he destroyed two in one night. Fumerton won the Distinguished Flying Cross for shooting down a German bomber over Sicily last March. In April he shot down two Heinkels over Alexandria, in July it was announced his score over Malta had reached four. July 11 he received a bar to his D.F.C.

TRIBUTE TO BEURLING
The Evening Standard paid tribute to Beurling, Verdun, Que. lad who has become one of the most decorated Canadian aviators of this war. In three words, quoting an R.A.F. officer who has just returned from Malta:

"The secret of his success is his incredible knowledge of deflection shooting. All his attacks are worked out carefully beforehand. Beurling is a quiet, self-reliant chap. You would never dream he's the fiercest fighter in the air. But he has concentrated his whole life on air fighting."

Beurling has destroyed 29 Axis aircraft. He was awarded the D.F.C. Thursday for outstanding achievement in air fighting over Malta.

Funeral Monday

He is survived by her husband, the Rev. F. Rogers of the same denomination, and the Navy noted he had "conducted writer operations... last spring with distinguished success."

He will report to Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the U.S. Pacific fleet.

No explanation was given by the Navy for relieving Ghormley.

Another Ace Canadian Wins Malta Honors

By DOUGLAS AMARON
LONDON, Oct. 24.—(CP)—

When speaking of Canadian defences of Malta, add the name of P. L. H. C. Fumerton, a night-fighter ace, who has shot down seven enemy planes since he went to Malta not so long ago.

Twice he destroyed two in one night. Fumerton won the Distinguished Flying Cross for shooting down a German bomber over Sicily last March. In April he shot down two Heinkels over Alexandria, in July it was announced his score over Malta had reached four. July 11 he received a bar to his D.F.C.

TRIBUTE TO BEURLING
The Evening Standard paid tribute to Beurling, Verdun, Que. lad who has become one of the most decorated Canadian aviators of this war. In three words, quoting an R.A.F. officer who has just returned from Malta:

"The secret of his success is his incredible knowledge of deflection shooting. All his attacks are worked out carefully beforehand. Beurling is a quiet, self-reliant chap. You would never dream he's the fiercest fighter in the air. But he has concentrated his whole life on air fighting."

Beurling has destroyed 29 Axis aircraft. He was awarded the D.F.C. Thursday for outstanding achievement in air fighting over Malta.

British Open Offensive in West Desert

In recent that he would crush their forces in the Middle East. The marshal's counter-offensive against the British push into Libya last spring carried to a point only 10 miles west of Alexandria. British supply and naval bases, and there it was checked and stalled.

British counter-attacks forced the German and Italian troops back to the west, where lines were set up along the 400-mile front. For between the Mediterranean and the great salt sinks of the Qattara depression.

Restored and reinforced, Rommel's army, which was again in the 35 in a short-lived attempt to turn the British line. Strong counter-attacks drove them back and British positions were reported improved.

The extensive aerial bombing of British naval and air bases on Malta during the past two weeks indicated the Germans were rushing supplies across the Mediterranean to the African Corps in the hope of a knockout blow.

Efforts to destroy the striking power of the British island general were interrupted—as in the past—on an effort to counter the movement of large Axis reinforcements to the Egyptian front.

The 8th Army is rested and ready to go. The British are now preparing for a new offensive.

THE PUGNACIOUS GENERAL
Gen. Alexander, "the last man in France of Dunkerque" in the 1940 was one of the most pugnacious of the army.

Sturdily built, with a square face and light eyes, he is a tribune whose slogan is "attack, attack, attack, even if you are on the defensive." At 45, he was the youngest major-general in the army.

His personal commander in the first Italian campaign was a bishop. The 54-year-old son of a bishop, he was a member of the House of Commons, a non-sportsman and a field believer in Spartan methods of training.

throughout the article are "such as to color and distort the facts." It referred to the "unsubstantiated" use of machine-gun fire and "Commando tactics" and said they "convey an impression of a large-scale military force which is untrue and unwarranted."

Then the statement "went through the time story and picked out the salient points," listing specifically four which were described as "the more important."

It denied that any gas-leak gas or any other kind—was used; that machine guns had been used; that any four "warning" rifle shots were fired; that any machine gunned and hit a prisoner in the leg, inflicting a slight wound. It denied that prisoners' food ration had been stopped and that 126 of the prisoners at Bonnewille had been sent to another camp.

CORRECT ERRORS
"The Canadian authorities make no comment on the property or otherwise of printing a story of this kind without official authorization," said the statement. "They had, however, that they are under the obligation to correct the statement's misstatements and inaccuracies."

The statement, which issued here by the defence department, was actually prepared for issuance to the United States by the Canadian legation. It was made available at the same time to the press of Canada by the defence department.

Until Thursday night after Time appeared on the street with the Bonnewille story, the shocking incident of Bonnewille had been known from publication in Canadian newspapers. The shocking of German prisoners in Canada was ordered last week by the Canadian government. It was announced that they had returned 10 British officers and 128 non-commissioned officers and men captured at Dieppe, Canadian soldiers in German custody.

Canada Fails To Meet Bacon Quota For U.K.

By James McCook

OTTAWA, Oct. 24.—(CP)—Word from bacon board officials that Canada has not been able to maintain her scheduled quota of bacon shipments to the United Kingdom yesterday added urgency to the September request that Canadians refrain temporarily from purchasing fresh pork, bacon or ham.

Informed sources said it is feared that the United Kingdom, dependent on Canada for 50 per cent of its bacon supplies, is being forced to dip into limited reserves stocks because Canada has been unable to complete as soon as expected a $200,000 pound contract.

QUANTITY REDUCED

Last Sept. 14 J. G. Taggart, chairman of the bacon board, appealed to consumers to postpone pork and bacon purchases up to Nov. 1 so the British bacon ration might be maintained. At the same time, the board reduced the quantity of pork and bacon available in the domestic market to 50 per cent of normal weekly sales in 1940.

Officials said yesterday there has been a good response to the appeal, and there had been a slight increase in the flow of hogs to market, but the addition had not been sufficient to maintain the schedule of shipments.

Y.M.C.A. War Service Wins High Praise

Work of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. in its war services operations in England, has received high praise from prominent British leaders and Canadian soldiers alike.

R. S. Hosking, general secretary of the national council of the Y.M.C.A., told local Y.M.C.A. officials at a dinner meeting Friday night.

Mr. Hosking arrived in Edmonton in the course of a tour of Canada. He spoke on his impressions he gathered in England where he recently spent six weeks inspecting the work of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. He was formerly a judge of the juvenile court in Toronto.

FIFTY ATTEND

The meeting was attended by 50 officials of the local branch of the Y.M.C.A., with Walter Emery, president of the local Y.M.C.A. council, presiding.

Rev. Daniel Young, president of the Edmonton Ministerial Association, expressed a vote of thanks to Mr. Hosking.

Seated at the head table were Rev. Mr. Young, John Denton, James Taylor, Reg. T. Rose, Lt. G. M. Crawford, Chester Gainer, Mr. Emery, Mr. Hosking, G. E. H. Smith and Clark Ready.

While the group waited for Mr. Hosking to arrive, Cornelius Ferguson showed the group a series of filmed pictures he took at the west coast and along the Banff-Jasper highway. Mr. Hosking was late arriving due to delays in plane connections at Lethbridge.

One of the impressions that Mr. Hosking received in England was the Britishers' complete fulfillment of the "Dig for Victory" program. Vegetables are growing along railway lines and wheat is yielding as high as 40 bushels per acre, he stated.

The terrific sacrifices that some of the Britishers have suffered come to light only when one looks at the ruins of sections of some of the cities or has occasion to converse with a survivor of the raids who has lost his home and property, Mr. Ready stated.

He stated further that the manner in which the Britishers are building orders out of chaos is most significant. They put to use everything and everybody, he said.

In reference to the fighting forces Mr. Hosking declared that if it were not for the R.A.F. or the British navy, the British folk, Germans would be in Canada today.

"The way the British folk stood between our life and barbarism will go down in history," Mr. Hosking declared.

It is serving as a medium through which fellowship, Christian friendship and recreation are offered the men of the armed services, he said.

Many a father and mother in Canada rests easier night after night in the knowledge that their boy is receiving the benefits of Y.M.C.A. service, Mr. Hosking declared.

TORONTO, Oct. 24.—(CP)—Sam J. Dorman, editor of the Alameda Dispatch, Alameda, Calif., said in an interview here yesterday that the student harvesting scheme in Saskatchewan has proved a complete failure.

The majority of the university students from Eastern Canada who went west to help in the harvest following a government appeal for assistance, were unwilling to apply themselves, he said.

"The boys all want to go back home," he added. "They just can't take it."

Friday

By now, Edmontonians have invested $147,550 in the Victory Loan. This includes $2,000,000 added to the city from the province's purchase of $4,000,000.

Major John W. Fry announced today that next Monday the city council will consider a new by-law which will require all city residents to wear gas masks and not to comply with air raid precautions regulations and who do not obey air raid wardens will be liable for a fine of $100 and a man on active service needed to go without necessaries normally available when the absence is

High school football is holding the boards here. The R.C.A.F. squad and city rugger under P.C. Jack Jamieson, former Varsity coach, goes to Calgary Saturday to play the Army team for the provincial final. It should be a great game.

There will be an air alert from 2 until 4:30 P.M. Sunday.

Capt. H. E. Pearson, M.C., who fought with distinction in the last Great War with the 10th (Airborne) Battalion, has been appointed officer commanding the 2nd (Reserve) Battalion, Edmonton Fusiliers. He has been promoted to lieutenant colonel and will take command of the unit.

There were a few flakes of snow trickling down in the early morning, but by mid-afternoon, the fall was noticeable. It looks as if there might be a considerable visitation of snow before the weather clears again.

First indication that we would get a "White Christmas" came during the night. I told you yesterday that some flakes of snow fell. That was only a prelude. During the night the mercury told rapidly down. A high wind arrived and it came snow. All night long the wind howled and snow fell, although no significant amount of snow was not great. But thermometers in various parts of the city reported that it was cold. One man reported that he registered five below at 6:30 A.M. another that he was three above at 7:30. In any case you can readily see that the weather here is here. There'll be a lot of good weather before the Storm King closes his grip—10°.

The R.C.A.F. Navy platoon is in Calgary today to play the Army for the provincial junior championship.

It seems almost certain that Mayor John W. Fry will receive an acclamation in his campaign for a sixth majority term.

Well, must hurry to catch the press, and consequently the mail.

Toodle-oo, best of luck and odies of love.

Road Network Already Built Part of 'Alcan'

REGINA, Oct. 24.—(CP)—The United States-Canada-Alaska prairie highway south from Edmonton is already under construction, delegates to the Highway Association Conference meeting Friday in Regina.

The highway, they stress, is not just one road, but the network of highways already built and used throughout the three prairie provinces and the prairie states.

Main project now to be undertaken by the United States-Canada-Alaska Prairie Highway Association is the launching of a gigantic program of highway improvement in Canada and in some parts of the United States.

Purpose of the Regina meeting, Halvorson, Minn., North Dakota, told the delegates, is to clear up the "misrepresentation that prevails about the routes of the Alcan highway this side of Edmonton."

IMPROVE ROADS

Said Mr. Halvorson, "This association believes that there is no need for one super-highway or one special route that favors a few cities and isolates the others."

"All roads leading to and from Edmonton and that part of the Alcan Highway that is already constructed must be streamlined, hard surfaced and kept in good shape for military, tourist and commercial traffic."

"These roads," said the American, "will be the post-war United States-Canada-Alaska prairie highway, over which will go at least half of Canada's and the United States' trade with Alaska."

Military Police Traffic Experts Of Armored Unit

By FRANK FLAHERTY

AN EASTERN CANADA ARMY CAMP, October 24.—(CP)—Three men schooled in the police department of three Canadian cities worked together recently at an army camp on the job of policing the army. Each was the deputy assistant provost marshal of a division, by civilian standards the chief of police.

Capt. H. M. Baker, D.A.M. for 14th (armored) division had his job organized as his division had reached an advanced stage in its training and Capt. R. T. Taft, D.A.M. of the 8th division and Capt. G. H. H. Wrigglesworth, D.A.M. of the 7th came to find out how he did things.

WIE EXPERIENCE

Baker was formerly traffic engineer with the Montreal city police department. Taft was detective sergeant with the Winnipeg city police and Wrigglesworth served 12 years as a policeman in Toronto.

In a sort of joint interview the three officers told how an army police department runs. The two visitors had decided to take a few lessons from the 4th division men when they had seen handle traffic during an inspection of the division by the governor-general.

"A military policeman must be a good soldier plus," one of them said. "He must know all that any other soldier knows, and some of the things better. He must be better than the average at map-reading in order to handle traffic."

LAY OUT ROUTE

When troops move, the provost must always move ahead to lay out the route, mark it and arrange for uninterrupted passage. Sometimes a mistake by a provost man might tie up a whole division in a snarl and a mechanized division in line of march stretches over 200 miles of road.

The provost men are the first to enter new territory, enemy or friendly, and the last to leave. They may have to fight rear-guard actions during a retreat.

The provost company of the 4th division is under the command of Capt. F. W. Kemp of London, Ont., who is responsible for the organization of the men, while operations are under the direction of Capt. Baker. The company looks for men in the army of the same type as those who make good civilian policemen. They must be big, intelligent, level-headed.

As the army can not recruit enough civilian policemen, it must train its own police around a nucleus of officers from civilian police forces. In addition to Capt. Baker, the 4th division has three sergeants with civilian experience which helps them. J. Perford, a former game warden of London, Ont., F. Fleming, formerly with the Kitchen fire department, and A. Daniels, formerly with the York County police force.

factories and war plants in occupied territory that are Allied bomb targets. Vital links in both Italian and Japanese war economy more than 700 miles distant from Allied bases had been freshly blasted as the President spoke.

For the first time in six months, big R.A.F. bombers rained destruction on Genoa and Turin. That meant a round-trip of 1,500 miles or more and London reported all planes safely returned.

Simultaneously, on the other side of the world, American bombers in China were lashing out to blast at critically-important Japanese colonial sources in Hsueh provinces. The latest mine installations in the far northeastern corner of China, target of the American attack, is Japan's prime source of steel-making coal both for Japanese furnaces and those of the great continental war arsenal in Mukden. They lie close to the Manchurian border.

Mukden itself is but another air step away, perhaps 200 miles. Announcement of the raid did not indicate from what bases the American bombers took off.

There is every reason to believe, however, that they travelled perhaps 100 miles farther to reach their target than did the British planes which bombed Genoa and Turin. It is at least 800 miles, air line, from possible American airfields in China to the Hsueh coal fields.

Japanese fear of not only present but future American long-range bombing attack has been amply demonstrated. The fear is revealed in the Tokyo threat of reprisals against American war prisoners for such attacks as the Doolittle raid on Japan. Even more revealing was a recent broadcast by a Japanese naval spokesman warning his listeners that American bombers of perhaps 10,000-mile range were to be expected eventually.

PRESS OFFENSIVE

Implicit in the Roosevelt announcement was the grim determination to carry the fight to the enemy, not to await him in either ocean or on any front. Heavier armed and armored tanks of longer range—like farther reaching, harder hitting bombers—mean attack, not defence. And there is small doubt that the White House announcement of policy was after, not before the fact, it represents weapons of both types now in production, not yet to be designed or put into the production line.

Godbout Provoked By Magazine Story

QUEBEC, Oct. 24.—(CP)—Premier Godbout said in a statement here last night that "in the name of all our people, whether English-speaking or French-speaking," he protested against an article on the province of Quebec in Life magazine Oct. 15.

Life devoted eight pages of text and illustrations to the province of Quebec under the title "French Canada," the statement said. "We should have been very happy had not those pages constituted adverse publicity, abounding in exaggerations and errors both of fact and interpretation."

Urge Retention Of Price Board Following War

WINNIPEG, Oct. 24.—(CP)—

Delegates at the closing session of the Manitoba Wheat Pool Elevators annual convention yesterday approved a resolution urging the services of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board be maintained after the war.

The convention also went on record as favoring the closing of the Winnipeg grain exchange which the convention asserted operates only to the value of grain exchange members.

Other resolutions urged the sale of farm lands be stopped until veterans of the war return and have first choice of available land, that the Dominion government advance loans on grain stored on farms and that storage allowances on wheat stored on farms be continued on the same basis as the 1941-42 crop.

Buying Safety

The Government of Canada invested $4,000,000 in Victory Bonds. This large contribution was made in the knowledge that the money did not belong to the Government or the taxpayers. It was money placed in the keeping of the public authority until the time comes to pay it out to those to whom it will then be due.

In making this investment the Government was doing as insurance companies, trust companies, and all institutions entrusted with the keeping of trust funds also do. Dominion bonds are the proper securities, above all others, in which to invest such money.

The same reasons which make these bonds admirable for the investment of money that is held in trust for other people make them ideal for the investment of one's own money. What one saves from his earnings is also "trust funds" in reality; it is money he holds in trust for himself and his dependents. For this money there is no other investment as good as bonds of the Dominion. There is no speculation in buying them. To a certainty they will be redeemed in cash when they fall due. The interest on them will be paid as regularly as the interest on any other security.

It is not just by custom or courtesy that Dominion bonds are called our "premier security." It is a fact. And there is a reason for it. The Dominion is the person in Canada, and every person who is born in Canada in the future, is pledged to redeem them—and to pay the interest on them at the stated rate.

These bonds are a blanket mortgage on all the wealth, and all the future wealth, production, in the Dominion. There is no other class of securities. Buying Victory Bonds is buying personal financial safety.

The "Second Front"

Field Marshal Rommel is said to have been given full command of Axis forces in the Mediterranean area, including the Italian fleet. There are less likely things in the circumstances.

Rommel seems to be the only one of his high commanders who has kept Hitler's confidence, and the Axis forces in that area are badly in need of him. He was washed out long ago as the man for the job, and Rommel has won his spurs in the field in the hands of the Führer. He appears in fact to be the only high-ranking officer Hitler could trust in such a situation. There is nothing of course to prevent the winter under suspicion ever since the beer cellar explosion.

The campaign in Russia is coming to an inglorious end at stalemate. It is necessary to turn the attention of the people of Germany in some other direction. It would never do to let them dwell on the counting their losses and thinking about the growing strength of the Allies while city after city is being razed to ruins under the hail of bombs. They must be kept too busy to recall the grand promises and compare these with the hardships and multiplicity of losses of the winter of war. A rallying call to battle on a new front is the only thing that can prevent a slump in German morale that is not a revolt headed by the Hitler caste.

General Alexander, British commander in the Middle East, seems to have been thinking along the same lines. He has suddenly sent the eighth army against the Axis lines at Alamein, with air and naval support, in what looks like the opening of the "second front."

There-and Here

With winter closing in, Canadians will surely note with more than passing interest a statement by Hugh Dalton, Britain's Minister of Economic Warfare. He announced that new winter clothing cannot be obtained by many people in Britain, because large shipments of woollen garments are being sent to the United States. Shipments included 500,000 blankets and 400,000 garments. More are being sent this year, because more than 100,000 men are not much detailed information, to understand that people in Britain need warm clothing now more urgently than they did in pre-war days. They are living on limited rations, very limited in respect to some kinds of heat-producing foods. And for vast numbers in the cities, where housing conditions must be only makeshift and far from suitable in cold weather. Remember, too, that even in the cities, men and women have to do duty at night as air raid watchers, while working by day.

For all these reasons, Britishers need warmer clothing than when things were normal. But they will have to do without. And for vast numbers in the cities, where housing conditions must be only makeshift and far from suitable in cold weather. Remember, too, that even in the cities, men and women have to do duty at night as air raid watchers, while working by day.

If Canada can do anything to make up to the people in Britain the lack to which they are subjected, it is to send them the clothes the soldiers and the war victims in Russia, we ought to be doing it. If, because of wool shortage, we cannot make up to them this sacrifice to their credit when someone says Britain is not doing enough to aid Russia.

And every Canadian must be as prepared ders the matter find added cause for gratitude that he is living remote from the shores of war-cursed Europe.

All other conjectures having been put on record, may it be suggested that Mr. Heiberg quit the Ontario premiership because he is facing a health crisis? He underwent an operation a while ago, which left him only one kidney. No man needs any further reason for stepping out of the hurly-burly of political life.

Incidents like that at the Bowmanville prisoner camp were to be expected. It is fortunate there were not more of them, and that they were not more serious. Men do not like to be shackled, and it would not mollify Nazi prisoners to tell them Hitler had brought the indignity upon them.

Swiss observers think Admiral Darlan is in French Africa to pick out a site for a new capital, in case Hitler should openly take charge at Vichy and the cabinet there want to move fast and far. It may not be a wild guess. The scheming Laval has schemed himself into a position where he must face a rebellion if he forcibly departs French Africa to Germany factories and must face the wrath of the Fuehrer if he doesn't fill the conspirator order.

Le Cuesnot lies far down in unoccupied France. It is scarcely farther than Vichy from British bases. It has not been bombed before, but it is a new London. It is a munitions centre for many years. Its immunity was not because it was beyond range of the bombers, but because it was important have been blasted repeatedly. It was spared apparently from fear of arousing French resentment. The attack of the British on the French coast at the difference in status between occupied and unoccupied France is mainly because of the difference in status between the region are coming to realize this fact.

Russian Says "Munich Party" Delays Second Front

Charges Some English and Americans Are Against Soviet

By HAROLD L. WEIR
Vladimir Krushkov, secretary of the Soviet Information Bureau, writes bitterly of three Americans and two Britishers who, he alleges, are obstructing the opening of a second front.

The three Americans are William Randolph Hearst, Colonel Robert L. McCormick and the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin. The two Britishers are Lady Curzon and Bernard Alexander. Krushkov says all five are members of the "Munich party" and are totally opposed to the Russian position, which might aid or comfort the Russian position.

Harold L. Weir, not so much because I entertain any great faith in the convictions or sentiments of the persons mentioned, but because of their extraordinary assumption that these five people could possibly speak authoritatively for any country other than their own.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

Nancy Astor still rules under the suspicion of being the leader of the "Munich party" and is still set the pace, in pre-war days, for the fact that her husband, who temporarily became fashionable in certain silly sets in Britain.

No Influence

Now the influence of these people, playing at political games, is practically nil. It is said that Hearst's political backing has kept more good men out of office than any other factor. The influence of a presidential candidate, for instance, has been so great that in the case of Hearst so much of the influence of the other candidates has been lost.

"Berlie" McCormick is in exactly the same position. People who are not his friends, first because they are not his friends, and second because they are not his friends, are not his friends. They are not his friends. They are not his friends. They are not his friends.

Delusion

So much for the practical basis of the "Munich party." But here is the alarming feature. The people of continental Europe have never enjoyed the freedom of action in the New World. North America and Britain. They are not free. They are not free. They are not free. They are not free.

Our people do not rest "Louders" in the "Munich party" speakers entirely in jest. The "Munich party" speakers are not in jest. They are not in jest. They are not in jest. They are not in jest.

Misunderstanding

It is easy to understand Comrade Krushkov's attitude towards the "Munich party" with his misunderstanding. In continental countries, the people are not free. They are not free. They are not free. They are not free.

Nations Need Common Front

Fidelity and Humility Are the Most Needed Qualities in Alliance

By DOROTHY THOMPSON
If I have any message to continue to write about the international political situation it is that the nations of the world must have fidelity and humility. They must have fidelity and humility. They must have fidelity and humility.

Identities

We can call this the fight of the ideologies among the United Nations. It is a fight of the ideologies among the United Nations. It is a fight of the ideologies among the United Nations. It is a fight of the ideologies among the United Nations.

World of Freedom

The ideal of the United Nations is to build a world of freedom. It is to build a world of freedom. It is to build a world of freedom. It is to build a world of freedom. It is to build a world of freedom.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

By REVEREND A. M. MALLORY
Minister, Edmonton Pentecostal Tabernacle

When Will the Church Have a Revival?

If my people, which are called by my name shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wickedness; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their iniquity, and will heal their land.—2 Chron. 7:14.

I FIRMLY believe that the greatest need of the day in which we are living is a Revival of Old Fashioned Supernatural Religion. Every religious organization in existence today, that is fundamental in doctrine, as brought into being through a revelation of Supernatural power from Almighty God upon the hearts and lives of men and women.

Some people say that a Revival is a miracle and that the church cannot have a Revival unless the Lord God sees fit to send one. But I believe a Revival can be experienced by the Church of God, wherever the church will meet the conditions that are laid down in God's word. The Church of God can have a Revival as easily as a farmer can have a harvest. The farmer has to do certain things and trust to Providence to do the rest.

First of all the soil must be cultivated and worked up in order to have a seed to receive the seed which the farmer must sow in faith. When Providence sends the seed and the rain, then the seed that has been sown springs forth and yields a hundredfold.

The first condition that must be met—if my people that are called by Name will HUMBLE themselves. We must go down upon our knees in a humble attitude before God and He has promised to lift us up in a spiritual realm.

Then we must PRAY. Prayer in the Name of Jesus and in the Power of the Holy Ghost is the mightiest weapon that God has ever put in possession of the Church of Jesus Christ.

Then the Word says we are to SEEK His face and turn from our wicked ways. Sin is the thing that hides the face of God from His people and keeps them from coming. But meeting the above conditions will bring healing to a land that is dark and sore. There is still a Balm in Gilead, there is a physician there.

Alberta District News in Brief

Archduke Rudolf Finds Farming

But Scion of Royal House is Willing

Hard Job as He Goes Harvesting

TROICU—There was no band on hand; not even a delegation awaited H.R.H. Archduke Rudolf of Austria when he stepped off the bus here recently. That was because only a few knew that one member of a group of college boys, who had come from Montreal to help with the harvest, was the brother of Prince Oitic, pretender to the throne of Austria and the son of the former Empress Zita of Austria.

In his final year of social science at Laval University, Montreal, Archduke Rudolf, who is 21, came west to help with the harvest because "it is glad to be able to do any assistance in harvesting the crops of Canada which will be surely needed when peace comes to the nations of Europe that have been overthrown."

GETS ROOM

Seeking help for her father's farm, Miss Elsie Ambling took the boy to home with her quite unaware that she was hiring a member of a royal house of Europe. When the family became acquainted with the royal harvesters, they housed him with a room at the house instead of allowing him to sleep in the barn.

Neither the Archduke nor his companions, four French boys from the same university, had had any previous experience in farm work and their troubles started when they were expected to feed and harvest their horses. Unaccustomed to the heavy work of harvesting, by evening of the first day they were a weary, hand-blistered group.

In his first Sunday the Archduke attended service at St. Anne's Catholic church, having been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. Pearce the previous evening. The following week he was hired by Joe Dana, a farmer of the west Trochu district, to drive a tractor and shovel wheat.

The Archduke, who is well-liked by everyone with whom he works, said the Alberta crops are the heaviest he has ever seen.

Ponoka Launches War Bond Drive

PONOKA—Men and women of the navy, army and air force presented a concert here recently to mark the opening of the third Victory Loan campaign.

Proceeding the concert, members of the armed forces were entertained at a banquet sponsored by the Ponoka community. Among those present were Mayor Robert Jones and Deputy Mayor L. B. Shaw.

Two successive blackouts at 9:45 p.m.—one Saturday and one Sunday—were reported in town, but was reported there was some lack of co-operation in rural districts.

Several motorists also ignored regulations by driving with their lights on.

Response to the loan drive was sought at church services held here. Ponoka expects to obtain its Victory Loan quota, although harvesting operations will slow up the drive in the farming communities in a short time.

Fairview Curlers Elect Officers

FAIRVIEW—J. W. Toller was elected president of the Fairview Curling Club at its first meeting of the season recently. Other officers named with vice-president, O. Johnson, secretary, D. A. Mackie, executive, D. Peterson, H. Thompson, N. Drew, ice committee, A. McLean, members, J. J. Masure, membership, N. Drew, Rev. H. A. Whaley.

More than 100 articles, including 10 of some 100 socks, were prepared and shipped by the local branch of the Red Cross. Three quilts were made by the Hines Creek Knit Club. The Gage and the Hines families donated quilts from salvage, the following being the donors—B. C. Cumming, G. Koshik, J. Lapierre, M. Connelly, M. Mihalik, K. C. Connelly.

BOMB-PROOF FORMULA

For VICTORY

WORK HARDER

LEND MORE TO CANADA

We have the men and they have both the skill and the courage. We have the just cause and the will to win. Then, "What is the Price of Victory?"

One answer is: Harder work on the home front: a tightening of belts from coast to coast; a forgoing of all luxuries, the saving of more money; a program of self-denial for the duration, so that we can lend more and more money to Canada.

Our investments in Victory Bonds will help to give us better-trained, better-equipped soldiers, sailors and airmen for this global struggle for human justice, decency and freedom.

Victory Bond dollars are "double-duty" dollars. They will shorten the war and will provide us with the means to carry out our new plans when peace comes again.

Self-denial is the order of the day. Save and Invest.

$125,000 is Set

Camrose Quota In Loan Drive

CAMROSE—With a quota of $125,000, in the third Victory Loan, this district has launched a drive which it hopes will reach its objective before the official campaign ends.

The basic raising centre turned out in force and paraded to the Camrose where services were held in connection with the drive. The bugle band was in attendance. The National Anthem was sung by a crowd which lined the streets.

BLACKOUT SUCCESS

The recent blackout in Camrose was 100 per cent. It was reported. The aircraft flying above gave out flares for spotting, etc. The V.P.R. Legion, the fire department, the police and city police, in addition to the fire brigade and ambulance, were in attendance. Arrangements for being made for future tryouts.

30-Bushel Yield Rosalind Wheat

ROSALIND—The average wheat crop in the district is running 30 bushels to the acre and is grading well. The weather has been good and the crop is in good condition. The oil crop is heavy. Threshing is about 50 per cent completed.

Gordon Ferguson is employed at the Pacific Coast. J. Rodney McMillan has returned after an appendix operation at Camrose. Maxine McMillan had her tonsils removed. G. G. Fairview Blackout Is 100 Per Cent

GLENDON—ACI Kenneth McKinnon, McCormick, R.C.A. McLehridge was a visitor with his parents at Flat Lake.

And she has been trying to mother calves for some time.

She chased the mother cow right away from the manger, said Monsignor Lyons.

"SPOILED CHILD"

"And does the child ever love the way he can boss his mother," He certainly is a very spoiled child, the priest declared.

Ennis McCarty, who is in charge of the farm, states he has never had such a problem to deal with before, and says he has a little worried at times for fear there may be an outbreak of serious "domestic" strife in the otherwise peaceful barnyard.

Just what legal statute would make a case of disputed custodianship such as this is not all clear.

Monsignor Lyons is well known in Edmonton, having served at the office of the archbishop here prior to moving to Dayland.

Teachers Vote

Cash Support Strike Plan

KEWASKA—At a meeting of 24 to 25 teachers attending the annual meeting of the Teachers' Association for the Province, Stettin, Red Deer and Rocky Mountain House divisions voted Friday to give financial support to the teachers of Veggieville if the dispute over salaries at that point is not settled and results in a strike.

Prior to taking the vote, teachers were given an outline of the points under dispute. In Veggieville, as next year's convention president and he will choose a secretary from his district, convention committee comprises C. Sorenson, Erskine, R. McMillan, Elmer, H. K. Breen and Miss E. Gundersen, Rocky Mountain House division—W. J. Morris, Ponoka, and R. L. Whitney and Miss F. Gaetz, Red Deer division.

Division meetings which followed the annual teachers' convention chose the following officers: Red Deer division—President, Miss O. Jague, Lacombe; vice-president, H. J. Cody, Sylvan Lake; secretary, Miss Mabel Gahn, Lacombe.

Ponoka division—President, A. M. Ferris, vice-president, Miss Margaret Grant, secretary, Miss C. M. Miller.

Stettin division—President, E. H. Kelly, Elmer; vice-president, L. Elmer, Grand Bend; secretary, H. McMillan, Elmer.

Rocky Mountain House division—President, William Simpson, vice-president, G. E. Travis, secretary, J. Russell.

Red Deer was chosen a strong plea for greater support of the war effort in the schools. J. Welch of Red Deer told of various methods of increasing the sales of war savings bonds and certificates purchased by pupils.

HOME INFLUENCE
In an address on "Can Democracy Be Taught?" Miss Florence

Todd, Calgary, upheld the affirmative view and declared that democracy demanded a high standard of education. She said that the home has more influence on the attitude of the child than the school and that the attitude of the parents on citizenship and democracy is generally the attitude of the child.

During the morning session, the teachers divided into groups for discussion of the various problems encountered in teaching.

Red Deer was chosen as the venue of next year's convention.

CONTEST FOR CHIEF MAGISTRATE'S SEAT UNLIKELY

Acclamation for Mayor Fry is Considered Certainty

Former City Constable Serving With Navy in Aleutian Area In Aleutians

Pounding a strange, new beat in far-away Dutch Harbor, where Allied fighting men scan the skies for Jap bombers, a former Edmonton police constable, Signaller J. F. "Jany" Dean, Royal Canadian Navy, sends an interesting letter to The Bulletin.

Writes the former policeman: "We are sitting alongside the jetty in Dutch Harbor, up in the Aleutians, waiting for the Japs to pop up another visit. This is some doing up here. How about getting those fluffiest friends of mine on the police force to send me the old Bulletin? I want to keep up to date on the social news of the old home town."

"This letter was started off Vancouver Island one evening in July. But, we've been at sea ever since," the former popular cop writes.

It gets mighty lonesome on such a long cruise, Jany admits. "But, we're all in it, and it's an inherent part in all of us despite loud deprecations to the contrary."

"When a fellow is miles and miles from home he gets some funny thoughts and ideas. A very real sort of expression some of the things that run through the average mind, and when the Japs' minds away up in the fog-shrouded Aleutians, it's a very real thing."

We are out on the Pacific patroling. "We're sighted one one lonely sail. If we're lucky we'll get in on Friday. And was recorded at 40 at the corner of Jasper and 102 street."

For a two weeks' assortment of mail. We'll find out next what we're doing. But the secrecy round us is dense. But the secrecy round us is dense. But the secrecy round us is dense.

For victory and national defence. In closing, Ex-Constable Dean wants to know how his former buddies are getting in what he calls their "fight for freedom, or tunic-less uniform."

An earthquake at Quetta, India, in 1935 killed 36,000 persons.

Two Microphones are Taken From Church

Two microphones are reported to have been stolen from Knox United church, 104 street and 84 avenue, some time between Wednesday afternoon and Thursday.

J. H. Smith, caretaker at the church, reported to city police that the two microphones, one at the altar and one on the organ, had disappeared during the week when the church was left unlocked for some time previous to a meeting of a welfare organization.

The microphones are valued at $35 each, and are the property of a radio supply house.

THE RETINA OF THE HUMAN EYE

By J. E. Thomas, Optometrist

The internal or nervous coat of the eyeball is called the retina, and it is the most important membrane of all; indeed all the other structures of the eye may be considered subservient to this one, as on it are formed the images of external objects by means of which we are able to see. It is a delicate nervous membrane upon the surface of which images of external objects are received.

The retina is continuous with the optic nerve, in fact it seems to be the spreading out of the nerve and by means of which the impressions are carried to the brain, and hence the eye and the brain are in the most direct and constant communication.

In order that the retina may properly perform its function, it is necessary that it should be in a healthy condition, and if not, the sight is correspondingly impaired.

The retina corresponds to the delicate film of the photographer's camera which receives the image of an object and allows it to be recorded upon its surface. There is one great point of difference, however; while the film of the camera is a mere passive material, the capacity of the retina is unlimited. The image of one object after another is formed on the retina as quickly as the eye can move and the mind can interpret the scene.

Everyone must admit that an organ which is so necessary to our life, and so useful to us as the eye, cannot be unworthy of our serious attention, and the protection of it, and guard them against all strain and injury.

Men Overseas On Average Get 2 Letters Month

Canadian soldiers, airmen and sailors overseas, on an average, receive two letters per month per man. Some men receive 10 or 15 letters per month but many others are not so fortunate. Insufficient and incorrect addresses are given by the post office as the chief reason why many lonely men fail to get letters. Post offices have two new mailing forms available to carry mail to men overseas. These are the new air letters and the airgraph system open to members of the armed forces and civilians. In the

Five Pounds is Weight Limit Civilian Gifts

There is but a small chance that anyone will forget a father or brother, boyfriend or cousin in the armed forces at Christmas time this year... but it is well to remember that this war was waged on and has been fought by the valiant civilians in England. So far it has been them who have suffered the most by the severe food and clothing rationing laws. These necessary laws make it impossible for them to obtain numerous articles that their Canadian cousins are still privileged to secure.

Ladies' hosiery, dresses and lingerie are easily parcelled within the weight of five pounds. Handkerchiefs, socks, handkerchiefs, underwear, gloves and other men's clothing of any kind will be joyfully received. That brave, unarmoured army of civilians must be remembered at Christmas time, too.

Large Deposit Of Vital Metal Found in East

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Discovery of a "large deposit" of molybdenum in Canada, helping solve one of the most critical metal shortages of the United States, was announced here Friday.

The importance of the discovery was emphasized by the fact that the combined raw material found in American and British officials recently notified the United States that their future materially, although the molybdenum would have to be cut because the metal was being used up for war purposes faster than it could be replenished. These allocations affected Canada, the United States, United Kingdom, Russia, and Australia, particularly.

The new deposit was found about 400 miles northwest of Quebec in the province of Quebec, by a leading Canadian mining concern.

The discovery was announced after George C. McNeil, Canadian metals controller, came here to discuss it at a meeting of the combined raw materials board and the Canadian-American materials co-ordinating committee.

W. Victor George, president and manager of Whitehall Broadcasting Limited, of Montreal, has been appointed general manager of the "Army Show", official Canadian Army troupe. He is a veteran in Canadian broadcasting.

Quality of Wheat Lowest Since 1928

WINNIPEG, Oct. 23.—(CP)—Actual quality of the 1942 wheat crop on the prairies, based on protein content, is the lowest since 1928, Dr. J. A. Anderson, chief chemist of the federal grain research laboratory here reported yesterday.

In an interim report, Dr. Anderson reported the mean protein content of 2829 wheat samples was 12.9 per cent, which was 1.4 units lower than the 1936 average. The report said this could be attributed to the cool wet season which was similar to 1928 when the average protein content was 12.4 per cent.

The average protein content for 1942 was 12.9 per cent, Saskatchewan 12.8, and Alberta 12.4. Last year the average was 14.5, 13.6 and 14.7 per cent respectively.

The optimum measure, only about one-half inch at the time.

Furnace Care Is Important To Save Fuel

You'll save money, have more comfort and feel safer when you call for furnace care. It's the one way to make sure you fire your furnace in the way that is suitable to the particular fuel you use.

First of all, order coal or coke (or wood, if yours is a hot air furnace) for this type of fuel, in the size best suited to the size of your furnace. If it's small, get chestnut or oak size. If it's large get oak or stove coal.

NEXT THING

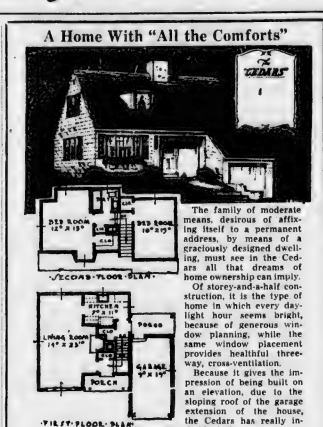

Next important thing to remember is to leave a red spot when you fire. This red spot should be pulled forward to the front of the furnace, with the new coal or coke sloping down the back. Then, when you leave the furnace door slightly ajar, the air in the furnace will combine with the gas from the fuel and will be ignited by the glowing red spot. This door should never be entirely closed. Grates should be shaken gently. The ash pit should be kept clean.

Just in case you need help of your particular furnace is not as efficient as it should be, or your choice of coal not quite accurate in terms of optimum efficiency, better call in your plumber and heating contractor. He'll know and he'll save you money and time by explaining just how to get the most out of your heating system.

Low-Cost Woodwork Is Proving Popular

You often can make a house more attractive and livable with only slight changes in the cabinetwork and the government recommends improvements of this type up to $600 over a period of twelve months. Cabinetwork is now available at low cost because of large-scale production by a well known manufacturer. This manufacturer's line includes many items to improve the home. Beautiful doorways are available. If your doorways are a problem, if you need more places to put things, consider a china cabinet or side wall, with shelves above for displaying china and space below for linen. There are commodes, kitchen cabinets, nicely detailed, with space for everything. Windows also are featured. "Mass-production methods have made it possible to have individual-looking woodwork at low cost. This manufacturer's line includes double-hung and casement windows, exterior and interior doors, frames, trim, entrances, moldings, panel work, kitchen cabinets, mantels, stairways, garage doors, etc.

The average man has his chance in a few days and get on for nothing!

Fuel Saving Aids Will Help Make Homes Warm During Coming Winter

The spotlight of domestic interest these days is on fuel. "How to keep warm this winter?" is the question on every one's lips. The degree of comfort enjoyed, therefore, will rest on ability to squeeze every bit of heat out of the fuel. Fortunately, there are an unbelievable number of ways of stretching the fuel dollar, and preventing unnecessary waste. The first step to insure the best performance from your heating plant this winter is to have it thoroughly inspected, cleaned and overhauled by an expert. Other devices, useful information, and artful ways for getting around possible fuel shortages follow.

DRAFT CONTROL
If an excessive draft in an old-fashioned or stoker-fired heating system supplies more air than is actually needed for efficient combustion, install a special draft control in your chimney or smokepipe. Fuel oil consumption can be reduced on some old-type oil burners by installation of air "chairs".

Adding both storm sash and weatherstripping to an unimproved house may cut fuel consumption about 20 per cent.

Correct adjustment of controls on a gas furnace will, in maximum fuel consumption, so have an

Special cleaning compounds are available for removing collections of oil, lime or sludge in boilers. You'll get more heat from your radiators if they are painted with oil paint, rather than bronze or aluminum, and you can match your color scheme with such paints.

There are special door seals for outside doors which effectively prevent the passage of cold air. Adjustment of dampers in the ducts of a forced warm air heating system will avoid any over-heat or over-cold rooms, thus saving fuel. You may waste coal by not burning the proper size, so find out what size your furnace requires. Wetting coal slows combustion, because the water must be evaporated before the coal will burn.

FUEL SAVING
Fuel savings in a house fully insulated, both side walls and ceiling, with which mineral wool insulation may run as high as 35.4 per cent according to a recent test. A thermograph test results when placed on an inside wall, away from cold air heat exposures.

Roof insulation added to a house in which the side walls and ceiling are insulated may effect a saving of from 10 to 20 per cent in fuel consumption.

Weatherstripping of an unimproved house may effect fuel savings of 15 and 20 per cent.

CLOSE OFF ROOMS

You can cut down your fuel bill considerably by closing off unused rooms and shutting off radiators. Automatic damper regulation is possible with any hand-fired heating system.

Radiator covers should not be used unless they provide for free circulation of air at top and bottom.

The combustion efficiency of your heating plant can be checked intelligently with instruments.

Door seals on inside bedroom doors will insure a warmer house in the morning with less fuel consumption.

All pipes and ducts should be insulated, to prevent losses. If coverings are old, check for breaks which should be repaired immediately.

In warm air systems booster fans are effective ways of improving heat distribution with less fuel consumption.

Improperly located registers may cause unbalanced heat.

You can be comfortable at lower temperatures if your house is properly humidified. There are a variety of auxiliary humidifying methods.

Heat lost up the chimney uncracked insulation, are the cause of much heat loss, so new jackets are a sound investment.

Filling all cracks around door and window frames with a plastic caulk will cut heat losses and eliminate uncomfortable drafts of cold air into the house.

Always allowed to accumulate in the air will retard the draft, thus lowering the efficiency of your furnace. Avoid fuel waste by removing them at least once a day.

A full freep in hand on a low fire bed.

Loose radiator valves should be re-packed to prevent fuel losses. Registers and air returns should be free and clear of all obstructions, including dust dirt, rags, furniture, etc.

Shields of reflective material placed behind radiators provide better distribution of heat because they throw radiant heat back into the room, which radiation is absorbed by the walls.

REMEMBER THIS

A little water in the drops of water a minute from a leaky faucet can add up to ninety-nine gallons of water that is heated needlessly every month.

A boiler must be clean to produce steam quickly and efficiently.

Secrecy Shrouds Visit of Little To United States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(CP)—Elliott M. Little, director of the Canadian selective service system, and Paul V. McNutt, director of the United States manpower commission, conferred here yesterday in almost an aura of secrecy.

McNutt's office would not even admit that Little had an appointment and soon after the meeting the Canadian official checked out of his hotel and apparently left for Ottawa.

Canadian officials here claimed to know nothing of the purpose of Little's visit and newspapers, both Canadian and American, who were anxious to question him on Canada's experience in war time

Canucks and Yanks Fly Wing Tip to Wing Tip Guarding Alaska's Shores Canadians Have Already Slapped Down Japs at Continent's Back Door

With their Kittyhawks waiting behind them like eager birds, a group of Canadian fighter pilots lean over their maps while discussing the day's operations. One Jap fighter plane was bagged recently by Wing Commander Kenneth Boomer of Ottawa.

Off on another patrol roars a Boeing bomber of the R.C.A.F. Our airmen share with those of the United States the job of keeping vigil over North America's "back door". Typical of the bomber crews are the lads shown. L. to R. they are: Observer, P.O. Frank Buckley, Quebec; pilot, F/L John MacDonald, Antigonish, N.S.; wireless operator, Sgt. S. Coffey, Victoria; gunner, Doug McLurich, Reston, Man.

Senior officers of R.C.A.F. Alaskan outpost. They are Wing-Com. G. McGregor, D.F.C. (seated) of Montreal and Squadron Leader "Chuck" Willis, Sherbrooke, P.Q.

Whether the battle front be in Africa, Europe, the Middle East or over the rugged shores of Alaska, the R.C.A.F. ground crews must "keep 'em flying". Shown here are mechanics, doing an overhaul on the engine of a speedy Boeing bomber.

Off duty: at table: Flt. Sgts. W. Blenis, Toronto; F. Johnston, Winnipeg; "Doc" Landry, Montreal; C. Schili, Humberstone. In cot, F/S T. Lindsay, Sydney.

High over the great mountain ranges of Alaska speeds a flight of R.C.A.F. Kittyhawks, ready to meet in the air anything the Japs may send against the shores of this northern outpost of the continent. Each day the aircraft of Canadian and United States forces cover many miles over dangerous mountain country and the lonely waters of the northern Pacific. In the case of a large scale invasion of North America by the Japanese it is probable that these aerial fighters would be out in front to bear the first shock. They have already clashed with strong forces of the Jap and bombed his outposts on a number of occasions.

Play by Play

DAVID PRESTON
BY PAUL

THE STORY: Blithe Miller, 18, is in love with Duane Hogan, big guy, star of the Lincoln field gymet. But Duane doesn't like her. He likes Nancy Hale, who is a young widow and a sister of his. He has given her a ride to work at the field after she and her son have been crushed by the loss of Duane. Now the grateful, blonde Nancy wants Blithe to help her win Duane's love instead. Blithe decides to try and convince Duane to go just as far and decide to give Nancy a lift for Duane's sake.

NANCY PROGRESSES

CHAPTER VI

ELMER SUMMERS, sports editor of the Journal, first told the facts of the matter publicly, and they didn't make Blithe any happier when she read them. In his column he wrote:

"Out at the Lincoln Field gymet gridgers have a new interest in life. Coach Pop Miller says that he has never seen a team enter its emotional attention around a mascot such as these boys have."

"But the interest there is more than a mascot, it is an inspiration. More than that, it is a goal, a aspiration, a widow and son. Best part of all is that the son is too young to run any sort of interference between the footballers and the mama. Mama, you see, is age only 21, and in appearance is a magazine cover come to life."

Reading it now in Pop's office, Blithe had to admit that all of it was certainly true. Nancy Hale and baby Scooter had everything of personal charm. She read on down the column.

"Mrs. Hale, it seems, is not only a good sport but a good sportsman. Her late husband, a casualty at Pearl Harbor, had taught her the finer points of tennis, for instance. And since a dramatic accident moved her literally into the Lincoln team's lap, the players have almost forsaken football for tennis."

Pop Miller himself plays tennis, which makes it even harder for him to have said his "late."

"This is not to say that the Lincoln won't be in tip-top shape for their fray with the Aggies on Saturday. Pop himself says the team spirit was never higher. But from the viewpoint of us, the fans, the incident remains in the field house is as interesting as the scrimmage on the field."

Officially it isn't any of our business, but in the grand-stands aren't officials? We can speculate and gossip in general way as much as we please! And so, as the Broadway columnist might hint it—what charming young widow from what upstairs apartment over what gymnasium is being seen more and more with what All-America footballer?

That could mean only one thing. Blithe knew, Duane Hogan had come from football honors at A and B, every judge last year had given him All-America rating. But it stung Blithe to think that even the newsmen were seeing what she had seen. Big Duane, rushing Nancy Hale.

Somebody tapped on Pop's office door, then opened it.

"Hi, Blithe."

"Oh, hello, Norman." Her tone was flat, lifeless.

"Get away from the typewriter and let's talk stuff and things."

"You got that, the Journal, I see?"

"Blithe was obviously pleased about life in general, this noon. See what happens wrote?"

"I read it."

"Great stuff, huh?" For Nancy and Hogan. Good old Hogan.

Blithe scowled a little, pouting. "Since when have you felt good-looking?"

"Norman." He persisted in bounciness.

"You know what I mean?"

"Yes, listen, rookie! I don't like Hogan too much, I admit that. He wrecked too many of my plans last year, and before, he—"

"Didn't he, though? Both times the Aggies smothered your State U. team with Duane leading the march?"

"Now listen!" Norman was getting mad.

"Oh, excuse me, Norman, I don't mean to bring up old rivalries, you know that. Pop would say me."

"Listen, I don't like Hogan, but I'm not down on him, see? If he said this girl hit off, power to them! In fact I'm doggone glad and you know why . . . Don't you?"

She understood him. But she never looked off at a blank wall.

"Listen, Blithe, his tone was low and tender now. "I'm crazy about her."

"We were overconfident," he explained, inconsistently. "Bunch of proles look us while we slept! But we'll open the throttle on that bunch of farmers—now!"

His enthusiasm was contagious, and all enthusiasm is. And Blithe was young enough to respond in a measure. They walked across to the Lincoln Inn and had lunch together. They talked of the U.S.O. dance scheduled for tonight, Thursday.

"I gotta be in bed at 11, so be ready before 8—now!"

"That way I won't miss a minute with you."

"Well, leave it to 10. Even if Pop did permit the dance for a let-down in tension, he'll have to still practice tomorrow. You have to sleep."

Norman grinned, fending her. "You're cute," he murmured. "Cute as pie!"

It would have thrilled many girls. Blithe knew, but it didn't thrill her, for handsome Norman Dana to be so attentive. She liked him, but she could never, never love him.

She went to the U.S.O. hall that night in a quietly resigned, but alert, mood. Here she knew she would face Nancy Hale and Duane time since Nancy had asked her for help in winning Duane. She hadn't trusted herself to go near Nancy since then. Tonight, she would simply have to be ready and alert.

The U.S.O. school cadets were literally everywhere with their tales when she and Norman came in. They danced a rumba. They did a dreamy waltz. Then a somber shout for "Blithe Miller—Blithe Miller. . . You're elected to lead the conga line!"

That thrilled her a little, of course. She had tried to be her prettiest tonight. There was a new formal. All yellow, with flower patterns in fact, for a girl less poised than Blithe. But perfect as a complement to handsome Norman Dana.

She and Norman did a high job with the conga, and when the dance ended in hilarity she suddenly felt somebody tagging her.

She turned, and there stood Nancy Hale.

"Blithe!" Nancy was happily excited as she stage-whispered. "Where've you been keeping yourself? I wanted to tell you. I want to thank you now. You're the best friend I could possibly have."

Blithe had on one of Blithe's own evening dresses which she had given to her, and on the shoulder now were two orchids from Duane.

Chinese Are Urged To Support Loan

OTTAWA, Oct. 24.—(CP)—Dr. Liu Shui Shun, Chinese minister to Canada, last night appealed to Chinese nationals in Canada to support the third Victory Loan.

The minister, speaking at the request of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, said China and Canada are fighting shoulder to shoulder against a common enemy, and they are both resolved to carry on the struggle until that enemy is finally crushed.

"As an example of Canada's determination to crush the common enemy, a victory loan appeal has been launched to reinforce her war effort in the interest of our common cause, and it goes without saying that the result of the drive will add considerably to the strength of the United Nations."

Dr. Liu cited a message given by the Generalissimo last December in which he urged all Chinese overseas to offer assistance to the Scholarship is Awarded Nurse At Royal Alex.

Mrs. Winifred Norquay, assistant supervisor of the maternity department for the past two years, is the recipient of the Tegler scholarship award. It was announced at the regular meeting of the Royal Alexandra hospital board, Friday night.

Mrs. Norquay, a member of the 1938 class, will take her post graduate course at the Chicago Nursing hospital, beginning in January.

The other scholarship, which is open to students of the 1943 class, will be awarded in April at the graduation exercises.

SUPERVISOR SPEAKS
Miss N. S. MacKenzie, district supervisor of Red Cross nursing from eastern Canada, spoke to the board about the Voluntary Aide Detachment, which was inaugurated in 1941 by the Red Cross with the backing of the Canadian Nurses' Association and the Canadian Hospital Council. Miss MacKenzie explained the training and the work of the V.A.D.'s.

In his monthly statistical report, Dr. A. F. Anderson, superintendent, stated that there had been 739 admissions to the Royal Alex and 303 operations performed there during the month of September. Ninety-two of these were major operations, he said.

Records revealed there were 27 deaths during the month. There were six amputations, fourteen fractures and 280 cases treated in the X-ray department.

Maternity mortality was nil, but there were eight infant mortalities. One hundred and twenty-nine babies were born at the Royal Alex in September, including one pair of twins.

Earnings from the physical therapy ward amounted to $759, Dr. Anderson reported.

FOUR WIN HONORS

Miss M. S. Fraser, superintendent of nurses, announced that of the twenty September graduates in nursing, four had passed their examinations with honors, that is a mark of 90 per cent or above.

The board unanimously moved a resolution of sympathy to the family of the late Mrs. A. F. Anderson.

What I Like About This Country

As I was saying to my friend Bill who works alongside of me in the shop. "What I like about this country of ours is that a man can blow off steam by 'beefing'." Not that it helps the meat shortage, but it does keep the pressure down.

Now you take when the new taxes came out. Boy, did I hit the roof.

Then I grabbed a pencil and did some quick number-work.

Then I dusted off all those fancy words the boys in the shop sometimes use and gave them a good work-out.

And that night I told Helen (she's my wife) that it was "scratch" from here in.

And I told her when that last Victory Bond is paid for—we're through.

Helen just looks at me and says nothing. Then one night we're sitting around the radio listening to the war news and somebody is beating the drum for the new Victory Loan.

And suddenly Helen says: "It's nice that the kids have lots to eat."

I looked at her astonished—

"What—" I began, but she continues, "And it's nice we have this comfortable home, and a little in the bank."

Then she says: "Fred, we're going to buy another Victory Bond."

And before I can get my say in about the taxes she goes on: "Look Fred! The new taxes have been coming out of your pay for about two months now.

We're still living and eating and putting a little away. Maybe we can't buy all the things we want but at that we still have a big edge on all those poor souls over in Europe . . . and we want to keep it that way."

All the fight has gone out of me by this time and I'm nodding my head. Every time she scores a point.

And the next day at the shop I sign up again for another Bond.

I'm telling Bill about it, and he grins and says: "Me, too." It's like those ads say: "You can't underestimate the power of a woman."

Anyway—we're buying Victory Bonds again!
